INTRODUCTION

The College Research Board is one of the 3 Boards and 6 Committees that form part of the College’s governance structure. The terms of reference of the College Research Board include:

a. To actively stimulate the research agenda of the various schools and department within the college.

b. To create a peer review panel made up of internal members and subject specialists from outside the University who will examine the quality of published products and the quality of research with respect to national and international standards.

c. To maintain an index of research productivity occurring in each department and school in the college and provide that information to the College Academic Board and to the Office of Research, Innovation and Development (ORID).

The Board has compiled the list of publications of faculty members within the College for the period, 2007-2014 in line with Section C of its terms of reference. This maiden edition of the index covers 3,385 publications, comprising: 1,833 journal articles; 20 edited journal volumes; 2 guest editing of journal special issues; 199 books; 673 book chapters; 69 edited books; 34 books reviews; 18 workshop papers; 253 technical and working papers; 121 conference proceedings; 13 encyclopedia entries; 20 monographs; 1 staged production; 61 creative works; 20 choreographies; 1 scripting and directing; 9 artistic works; 11 productions; 1 compact disc; 1 study guide; 4 shorter essays; 2 bibliographies; 2 documentaries; 1 translated work; 14 commission reports; and 2 research reports. The index covers works of 296 faculty across the various schools, institutes and centres within the College. The quantity of publications includes co-authored papers which may have been counted more than once, with respect to the different departments of the authors.

The College Research Board is focused on promoting and intensifying research excellence in line with the University’s vision of attaining world-class research intensive status. The College is proud of experienced faculty across the various schools, institutes centres, who are committed to carrying out policy relevant research that would contribute to national development.

As you go through the list of publications, we encourage you to also visit our website http://coh.ug.edu.gh/ to download this document and access more recent publications by faculty within the college.

Prof. Joshua Yindenaba Abor
Chairperson, College Research Board
MESSAGE FROM THE PROVOST

The College of Humanities is one of the four colleges in the University of Ghana. The College is made up of six (6) schools: University of Ghana Business School (UGBS), School of Arts, School of Performing Arts, School of Languages, School of Social Sciences, and University of Ghana School of Law. It is also home to three (3) research institutes: Institute of Statistical, Social and Economic Research (ISSER); Institute of African Studies (IAS), and the Regional Institute for Population Studies (RIPS); as well as five (5) centres: Centre for Social Policy Studies (CSPS), Language Centre, Legon Centre for International Affairs and Diplomacy (LECIAD), Centre for Gender Studies and Advocacy (CEGENSA) and the Centre for Migration Studies. It also houses the University of Ghana Accra City Campus, located close to the central business districts of the nation’s capital, ACCRA.

The research programmes of faculty in the College continue to grow and increasingly encompass emerging development and social issues of concern to the country. Faculty in the college are also engaged in advocacy and provides leadership in public policy discussions. These aspirations, achievements and activities of the College are well in line with the University’s commitment to support the development research programmes to achieve the highest standards of excellence.

Building on this foundation, the College of Humanities has developed this maiden edition of its index of publications of its faculty published from 2007 to 2014. The index aims to showcase the positive and productive experience for all our scholars. It also aims to contribute to the quality, quantity and impact of research output from the College, which will in turn benefit the University and the country.

The College is committed to research on real-world challenges. Use this index to explore our research output, identify potential research partners and solutions to the challenges within Ghana and beyond.
